(MELBOURNE, Australia - 17 Aug 2023) -- Bristol Myers Squibb Australia (BMSA) is thrilled to be named on the Great Place to Work - Best Workplaces list 2023. This recognition acknowledges BMSA's commitment to fostering our unique culture to ultimately transform more Australian's lives through science.

This news was announced last night at an award ceremony in Sydney. To be awarded this accreditation for two consecutive years is an excellent achievement and recognition of everyone's combined efforts to make BMSA a great place to work.

This is an important driver of our overarching People Strategy and is underpinned by our values and our culture of inclusivity. It's about enabling and empowering our talent to deliver on our business strategy and transform patients' lives through science.

Our Total Rewards focus on health and wellbeing, retirement savings, financial wellbeing and protection benefits, recharging and giving back (volunteering), managing work and life, compensation and recognition. "The options and flexibility of the Total Rewards program empowers our team to create the employee experience most meaningful to them and ensures they are happy, healthy and motivated which transcends into business performance," said Managing Director Leah Goodman.
