

Our commitment to transparency in Canada

At Bristol Myers Squibb (BMS) we take our responsibility as a healthcare partner in Canada seriously. Ultimately, we are accountable to our patients for the trust and confidence they put in us.

In our quest to continuously advance science and provide quality medicines to Canadians, we work with healthcare professionals and healthcare organizations. As a partner in the healthcare system, these collaborations drive scientific advancement, contribute to physician education and support patient care programs designed to enhance health outcomes. Guided by the Innovative Medicines Canada Code of Ethical Practices, the industry funds and compensates our healthcare partners for their time and expertise.

Since 2017, BMS has proactively and on a voluntary basis disclosed payments it provides to both healthcare professionals (HCPs) and healthcare organizations (HCOs) as part of our overall commitment to greater transparency and high ethical standards in our business practices.
