BMS Australia receives accreditation from Great Places to Work

(MELBOURNE, Australia - 16 May 2023) -- Bristol Myers Squibb (BMS) Australia is honoured to be accredited as a Great Place to Work for 2023. This is the 2nd year BMS has achieved this accreditation and is testament to the outstanding people and unique culture at BMS.

The Great Place to Work certification is a direct result of how employees rated the Company through the survey. Questions were based on core cultural areas including; credibility, respect, fairness, pride and camaraderie. 90% of our employees say this is a great place to work’.

Bristol Myers Squibb is inspired by a single vision – transforming people’s lives through science. Over the past year, Bristol Myers Squibb innovative medicines have improved how patients are treated, making long-term survival and a better quality of life a possibility for more patients.

“At BMS Australia are all focussed on a common goal of improving patient lives through boldly shaping our environment and our award-winning employee engagement. Our innovative pipeline aids our ambition of continuing to deliver transformational medicines to Australian patients. By investing in our talent and celebrating I&D, we are future proofing our company, ensuring we have the skills to manage a changing world as we deliver our medicines to those who need them to most.” said Managing Director Leah Goodman

“We have the most talented people in the industry,” stated Leah Goodman “Every single colleague is fully dedicated to delivering performance for patients because they believe in the contribution they make in bringing our vision to life.”
